Equipped to Encourage

Early experiences with your 0-5 year old to encourage Christ-centered routines.

2

Bring your child to church

It can be hard (diaper bags, snacks, squirming) but bringing your little one to church matters. Even if they don't understand everything, they're hearing the Gospel, seeing worship modeled, and learning that this is a special and important place.

5

Set an example

You've heard it said, "More is caught than taught." Your child is watching, when you read your Bible, when you pray, when you trust God in hard times. Your actions speak loudly. Show them what a life of faith looks like.

1

Read Bible stories and books About God

Snuggle up with a Bible story book or child devotional. Reading together builds connection and helps your child begin to understand God's story. Use books written for young children to make these big truths simple and beautiful.

3

Pray with your child

Make prayer a natural part of your day. Help them fold their hands, and talk to God. Thank Him for His goodness and bring your requests to Him, reminding your child that God is powerful and always listening.

4

Sing hymns and songs about Jesus

Little ones love music and singing is a beautiful way to worship together! Whether you're in the car, at home, or rocking them to sleep, fill their ears with songs about Jesus.

6

Connect to Creation

The world is full of wonder! Use simple moments to point your child to the Creator. These everyday observations are powerful opportunities to teach them about God's creation.
